Terms of the Housing Agreement and Account Information

The agreement is for BOTH fall and spring semesters of the 2018–2019 academic year, as long as the student is enrolled at the University of Utah. Summer semester and winter breaks are not part of the academic year agreement (winter break is included in the academic year apartments agreements). If a student is going to be studying abroad, taking a leave of absence, or not attending the university for the spring 2019 semester, they should notify Housing & Residential Education (HRE) at least 30 days before the end of the fall term.

Students may access their housing account information through Housing U. HRE does not send out housing bills in paper form. All statements will be sent to the student's UMail account via email. If family is helping a student to pay for housing, they need to relay financial information to them. Students are legally responsible for their account.

Fall charges: Student's semester and first month's charges will be available to view by August 8, 2018.

Beginning Spring 2019, housing and tuition bills will be billed together via University Income Accounting. Students will be able to select a payment plan option with Income Accounting. Information on payment plan options and the new integrated bill will be available during the fall semester. For more information, please visit: housing.utah.edu/apply-reserve/rates-n-housing-account

Payment Options:

A late charge of $37 will be added the morning of the eighth day of every month to any outstanding balances exceeding $50. Outstanding balances may include unpaid rent, unpaid meal plans, RHA dues, lock-out key charges, lock change charges, swipe card charges and damage charges.

Students who are no longer planning to live on campus, must cancel their contract through Housing U. Please see HRE's contract termination website at housing.utah.edu for more information.

FERPA

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) of 1974, as amended, states that school officials may not disclose personally identifiable information about students nor permit inspection of their records by others without written permission from the student. Students are protected by FERPA as soon as they are admitted to the University of Utah. Questions regarding FERPA may be directed to the Office of the Registrar via phone at 801-581-5808 or email at registrar@utah.edu. UMail

A student's official university email address, Umail, will be used by HRE to communicate important information to students. Students will be assigned this email address when they are admitted to the University of Utah, and they are expected to check it often. HRE will send regular updates on move-in and other pertinent information throughout the year.

Student Conduct & Residence Hall/ Apartment Policies

All students have the responsibility to abide by university and HRE policies and to report safety concerns and policy violations that are taking place in their room, suite, floor and/or building. Students should know that there are consequences for making choices that violate community standards. The campus student conduct system is educational in nature, and the housing professional staff members are the primary hearing officers for incidents. If a student is documented, they are responsible for checking their university issued email address (UMail) following the incident for further instructions. Students are responsible for all policies outlined on our website and in their housing contract. More information about the student conduct process and our policies may be found in the Residence Hall and Apartment Policies section of our website at <https://housing.utah.edu/living-the-u/resident-policies-responsibilities/>. Students are also responsible for following the University of Utah's Student Code, which may be viewed at <http://deanofstudents.utah.edu/conduct/>.

Safety Information

Residential buildings are locked 24-hours a day, and buildings are accessed by using the student's UCard or building entrance key. Students are only allowed access to the building where they live. All guests must be escorted by the student resident at all times while they are in the building. We strongly encourage all students to lock their doors as a safety precaution.

Campus Alert System

The Campus Alert System is a messaging service that alerts students to potential weather conditions, safety threats, and other emergencies that may occur on campus. This system also provides notification to residents in case of an emergency within HRE facilities and serves as a means to distribute special directions to residents as needed. University of Utah students are automatically signed up for this service. Visit <http://campusalert.utah.edu> for more information

Campus Safety Escort

The University wants to provide a safe and welcoming environment for everyone on campus. If you ever feel nervous or apprehensive to walk anywhere on campus alone, please call the campus department of public safety and they will provide you with a safety escort to walk with you to your destination by calling 801-585-COPS. For more information, visit <http://dps.utah.edu/services/safety-escorts/>.

Insurance

Housing & Residential Education is not responsible for personal property. We encourage students to obtain renter's insurance or check to see if their family's homeowner policy covers their belongings while living in the residence halls. Safes are available for rent as an optional service. See page six of this publication for more information. (Note: Upper-class students living apartments at U of U at Block 44 will be required to purchase their own renters insurance)

Staff Information

The following staff members are available to help students as they transition to the University of Utah:

Resident Directors (RDs):

Full time professional staff members that directly oversee and manage a residential area or a programmatic component like the Residence Hall Association (student leadership) or Social Justice Initiatives. RDs are accessible to residents to help with a variety of needs. They supervise Student Leaders and Graduate Assistants in efforts to serve and support residents.

Graduate Assistants (GAs):

Graduate level, part-time staff members who assist RDs in the day-to-day management of a residential or programmatic area. GAs are available to provide support and assist with a number of needs.

Resident Directors serve in an on-call rotation to respond to student concerns and/or emergency situations within HRE communities. Students are able to reach an HRE staff member 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, 365 days a year by calling 801-587-2000. We suggest adding this number to your phone's contacts.

LOVE LIFE. LOVE COLLEGE.

Resident Advisors (RA): Student leader staff members who live on each floor and/or in each building to help coordinate community development activities, engage students, and help individuals connect with one another. Social Justice Advocates (SJA): Student leader staff members who coordinate and create community for underrepresented students through outreach, events, and Equity Office Hours.

Programming Assistants (PA): Student leader staff members who make campus a fun place to stay and play on the weekends.

Community Advisors (CAs): Student leader staff members who develop a cooperative, inclusive living community in Chapel Glen.

DAs provide general assistance and mailroom services. They also serve as a resource to all HRE residents and can dispatch assistance when needed.

Mailroom Assistants (MA): Student leader staff members who work in a mailroom. MAs provide general mailroom services including package delivery and resident notification.

Housing Ambassadors (HA): Student staff members who work in the main HRE office in Benchmark 822. These students are here to answer questions about your contract, take housing payments and give tours of on-campus housing.

Student Managers: Student Leader staff members who provide guidance to the DA and MA staff during evening hours. They also serve as a resource to all HRE residents and can dispatch assistance when needed.

Visit the employment opportunities page on our website for information on how to apply for student leader staff positions. Work-study and Spanish-speaking students are encouraged to apply. Flexible hours to fit your schedule. Work where you live!

Room Freeze

There is a room freeze the first week and last two weeks of each semester. Room changes are not permitted during this period while we verify who has arrived and who is still planning to move in. Unauthorized room changes at any point during the length of your housing contract are not allowed.

Meal Plan Information

Students living in Chapel Glen, Gateway Heights, Officers Circle, Sage Point and singles and doubles in Lassonde Studios are required to purchase a meal plan.

Meals for Heritage Commons residents are dine-in and are served in the Peterson Heritage Center Dining Room on an all-you-care-to-eat basis. There is also a convenient “To-Go” meal option. Meal plan weeks start on Friday and end on Thursday. Unused meals do not carry over from week to week.

Lassonde Studios residents will use their meal plan at the Miller Cafe in the building. The Lassonde Studios meal plan is a declining balance meal plan that will be on the student’s UCard.

Transfer a Meal

Students with a meal plan are able to transfer a meal and use a meal swipe at a dining location other than the PHC Dining Hall. Each location will have designated meal swipe eligible options. If you wish to select an alternate meal, you may use your flex or dining dollars to pay the difference.

Eligible locations: Honors Market, Union Crimson View (4th floor), Lassonde Studios Miller Cafe

Failure to use the meal plan does not cancel a student’s financial responsibility for the meal plan. The UCard serves as a student’s meal card and will need to be presented upon entering the dining facility. Meal service is limited and unavailable during certain break periods. For complete meal plan information regarding rates, changing meal plans, inquiries about special dietary needs, etc. Please visit housing.utah.edu/dining.

When a student receives a package, they will receive a slip in their assigned mailbox asking them to stop by and pick it up.

A package will be kept for seven days before it is returned to the sender. The seven day return notice applies all year, including the week before moving into the residence halls. If we receive a package more than a week before your move in date, it will be returned to sender.

The University Guest House offers special rates for students and is also where Standby and Winter Stayover occurs.

HRE facilities open on Thursday, August 16, 2018 at 9 a.m.

For full details of the day, please visit our Move-In Day webpage at <https://housing.utah.edu/moving-in-out/moving-in/>

Parent advice

Please encourage students to have honest conversations with roommates regarding concerns that arise. The Resident Advisor (RA) on the floor can help the student in the conversation or can facilitate the conversation.

Re-read the statement above... it is the most useful and an important opportunity for growth for students in enhancing their skills to be able to live cooperatively with others.

If a student is concerned about their safety, they should call 801-587-2000 and ask to speak with the RA on call if they cannot reach their own RA.

Gender-Inclusive Housing

Housing & Residential Education is committed to making each resident feel welcomed and included in our campus communities; including an environment welcoming to all gender identities and forms of gender expression.

Students interested in Gender-Inclusive housing can apply to housing through a confidential process.

Students who need special accommodation due to gender identity/expression should contact Housing & Residential Education either through the application process or by directly contacting our office.

If you have additional questions, please contact:

Emily McCoy-Marley

Assistant Director of Occupancy Management
801-585-5049

The majority of Residence Hall spaces for first-year students will be Triple rooms.

Roommate Agreements

For many students, this may be their first time living with a roommate. This may be a learning process. Should an issue arise, the following steps are used to address and resolve roommate issues:

- 1 Roommates communicate with each other to identify and solve issues as they occur.
- 2 Roommates utilize Resident Advisors and/or Community Advisors to serve as a mediator to come to a compromise.
- 3 The Resident Director or Graduate Assistant addresses the issue(s) with the students. If a conflict cannot be resolved or a compromise reached, the end result may be a room change for one or both students.

Tips for getting along with roommates.

Be open to new experiences!

Keep in mind that everyone comes from a unique background and an individual set of life experiences. These experiences have shaped who they are today. When you keep an open mind you allow yourself to have new experiences, learn something new and make new friends.

Respect each other and be clear from the start.

Everyone has their ways. What they like and what makes them tick. Let your roommate know right from the start what these things are. But equally as important is listening to what your roommate has to say. Come to an agreement and compromise as needed to set expectations of your shared living space.

Address things when they're still little. And when they're big.

Is your food being eaten without you knowing about it? Does your roommate leave their wet towel on the bathroom floor? When little things are stacked on top of each other and combined with the stress of school and adjusting to university life, they can escalate quickly. Don't let something little become big by addressing it right from the start. A simple "hey, would you mind not doing that?" can solve a problem before it becomes bigger than it needs to.

However, some issues are big, but they can still be handled with tact. Sit your roommate down when you both have time to address the situation and both say your side. Your student leader or professional staff member can serve as mediators if needed.

Be mindful of your roommate's belongings.

Just like you wouldn't want your stuff to be moved around or used without you knowing about it, treat your roommate's stuff the same way.

Lock the door and windows.

Not only will this protect your personal belongings, it will also protect your roommate's personal belongings.

It's OK to not be best friends.

But you do need to respect each other. When you show respect, respect will be returned. Some of your roommates will become lifelong friends, and some won't. And that's OK.

TRANSPORTATION FOR HOUSING RESIDENTS

Getting Around

There are a variety of ways to get around campus, as well as from campus to around the Salt Lake area. In fact, we encourage you to consider alternate transportation methods rather than bringing a car with you to campus. Learn more about these methods below:

Campus shuttles run regularly from the Peterson Heritage Center and around campus. Learn more about the campus shuttle system and use the Live Shuttle Tracker to get to where you need to go on time here:

www.uofubus.com

Your UCARD also allows you to utilize all public transportation in Salt Lake City. UTA offers a free trip planner to get you to campus fast. For more information visit:

ride.uta.com

If you plan to bring a vehicle with you to campus, you should also plan to purchase a University of Utah parking permit. Commuter Services offers a variety of permit types to residential students. To explore permit types and decide which permit is best for you, visit our website here:

parking.utah.edu

Parking FAQ

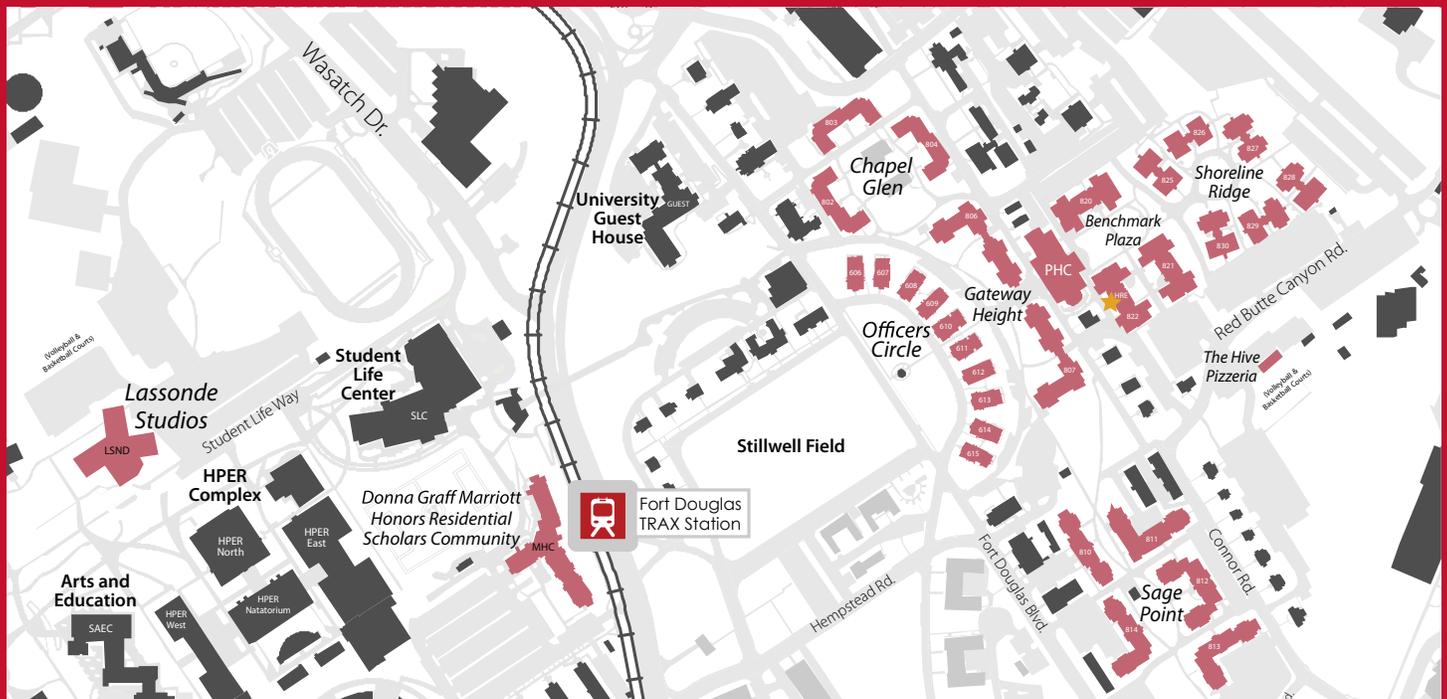

How do I purchase a permit?

As a student of the University of Utah, you have an account with Commuter Services. This account can be used to purchase a permit. (Note: Upper-class students living in Cedar Court 700 or U of U at Block 44 will need to purchase separate on site permits.)

How do I display my permit?

There is no physical permit to display--your license is your permit. Once you have purchased your permit with your associated license plate, you may park in appropriate areas. Keep in mind that your license plate must be visible from the roadway.
